ART INSTRUCTOR Bruce Ketchum gives members of his class some pointers on outlining a mural on the wall of El Ranchito.

He teaches 'on the wall' art form

BELLE GLADE—Artists are sometimes considered to be off the wall but Glades Central Night School art instructor Bruce Ketchum is leading his students to the wall for a new learning experience this term.

Ketchum, a former full time instructor at the local high school who now spends his daytime hours as an employee of Everglades Federal Savings and Loan Association, is teaching his current class art as a cooperative effort in the form of a mural the entire class is beginning at a local restaurant.

He began Tuesday evening by overseeing the general outline of the wall art at El Ranchito Restaurant, owned by Jack Tatam. Ketchum said the students supply the talent and work and receive credit and free tacos while Tatam supplies the tacos, paint and wall and receives a major decoration in his place of business.

Keeping the Mexican theme of El Ranchito in mind, Ketchum's concept for the mural is a scene which thrusts the diners into a Mexican courtyard, looking through arches of the exterior wall onto a vista of mountains and the world passing by outside.

A wall air conditioner mounted in the path of the mural is receiving special attention as a balcony.

Most of the students' attention Tuesday was given to pencilling in general outlines of the archways but one of the students had already outlined the figure of a Mexican dozing with his back against one of the arches.

Ketchum said the mural is one way of generating more enthusiasm among his students and said

In national contest

GCI newspaper wins 4 awards

BELLE GLADE—Four national journalism awards were recently presented to a monthly newspaper published at Glades Correctional Institution during competition during the 13th Annual American Penal Press Contest.

The awards, a second place in the national sports story competition and honorable mentions in the feature story, news story and editorial categories. All the articles were written by Do You Know Editor Robert R. Casterline.

The second place award was for a sports story concerning the beginning of the flag football season last September at GCI. "I thought this was the weakest entry we made," Casterline said, "and I was really surprised we won it."

The feature story was one Casterline did in March 1977 issue about the GCI food services department in general and Food Service Director Robert Mineo in particular.

The news story entry was one Casterline did in the April 1977 issue as the result of an interview he did with GCI Superintendent Robert Turner on the effects of several recent federal court rulings on prison overcrowding and how GCI in particular would be affected.

The editorial entry, he said, was one he did concerning Black Muslims at the institution. "Being a Goldwater conservative, I'd always thought of Black Muslims as revolutionaries in the mold of Malcolm X. But the group here, once I got to know them are pretty decent and peaceful...not at all like I had them pictured."

He said he got involved with the Muslims when some of them asked him to write a note to Turner requesting permission to celebrate one of the Muslim holy days. That note became the core of the editorial he wrote.

Casterline is the one and only staff member of Do You Know, a position he's held for the past year. The newspaper is put out by the GCI Education Department and change's provisions.

Some of those provisions would prevent the city from draining storm runoff water into area canals, would prevent the mixing of canal waters with those of Lake Okeechobee or any waters from draining ditches in agricultural fields into the canals.

"These water quality rule change hearings in March," Parsons said, "are probably the most important thing DER has ever undertaken and it frankly scares me."

He said one of the problems is that so few people who will be affected by the rule change are aware of what those effects will be.

For instance, he said Lake Okeechobee, under the rule change, would be considered a national water resource.

"This would mean," he said, "you can't introduce any new discharge into it unless it's treated so it would have no effect on the water quality. It would effectively stop any new development, agricultural or otherwise, anywhere along bodies of water which flow into the lake."

"This is one thing everybody's trying to keep quiet," he said, "so nothing will be done to stop it from going through. They have the potential of shutting people down or forcing them to spend millions of dollars to treat the water...and nobody can tell you how to treat it."

Parsons said the canals, along with all the other waters in the state, were classified by DER in 1969. He said there is only one body of water in the state, aside from drainage ditches in fields, which is now classified for agricultural use.

"That's the Miami River from Biscayne Bay to a point two miles in downtown Miami. Now, how much agriculture is there is the heart of Miami?"

When the canals in the agricultural area were originally classified for conservation and wildlife, DER staff members said the classification wouldn't affect the growers because they had no authority to regulate agriculture.

But they have gained that authority since then, he said. "Now, the classification hasn't changed but the criteria and enforcement has."

"We've tried to get them to reconsider the classification," he said, "because we felt this was an unreasonable

Funeral service ends double death ordeal

BELLE GLADE—A crowd of approximately 500 friends and relatives attended double funeral services Wednesday morning for Gerald and George McMillan, ending an ordeal which began Saturday with a massive air-water search of Lake Okeechobee for the two brothers.

Friends filling the pews of Community United Methodist Church and standing along the side aisles heard orations by the Reverends Guilmard Blair and Robert O'Farrell.

The brothers died Saturday night when their bass boat filled with water and sank in about four feet of water about two miles north of Clewiston during a night which saw sub-freezing temperatures and four to seven foot waves breaking on the big lake.

The search began at 9:30 a.m. when Ann McMillan, Gerald's wife, telephoned the Glades Office of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department, reporting the two brothers were overdue from a fishing trip.

Sgt. David Estes said he was the first to answer the call for help, setting out shortly afterward in the Sheriff's Harbor Patrol boat. He said he ran into trouble himself with mismatching gaslines on his boat but was able to make repairs and continue the search.

"The temperature when I was out there," Estes said, "was about 30 or 35 degrees and there were swells five to seven feet high breaking and rolling. I was only able to make about three or four state championship in 1971, Stanley said he was in the area on a recruiting drive. Among the people he contacted was Assistant Glades Central Principal Russ Brazzel.

ROBERT R. CASTERLINE at work on the next issue of the award winning GCI newspaper, Do You Know. The publisher is Paul Westberry, to leave the field again.

Casterline said he is attempting to make Do You Know a "useful tool" to make life easier at GCI by keeping the inmates informed of facts rather than rumors.

"One of the worst things here," he said, "is not knowing when you're going to get out. Oh, you know what your release date is but that's a long way down the line. It helps to know what you have to do to get out on parole or on work release."

BY BIFF LAMPTON

An open letter to environmentalists:

Dear sir or madam:

It has been with increasing alarm that I have witnessed the coming battle you are waging against agriculture, both in the Everglades and elsewhere across the United States.

Recent events have indicated a strong, well coordinated effort is being made to halt and prevent further backpumping into the waters of Lake Okechobee.

Your representatives have told me they have no doubts as to their ultimate success in this goal, which remains to be seen. They also have said they do not intend to hamper life in the Glades as we, the residents, know it.

Your stated purpose is admirable. You say you intend to prevent the hypereutrophication of Lake Okechobee. On this point, I must agree with you. I would venture to say I utilize this resource as much as, if not more, than you.

But I question if you fully realize the ramifications of your actions, if they should be realized. Neither am I convinced that backpumping is the culprit you claim it to be.

The whole key to this issue is quite simply "Is backpumping a significant contributor to the hypereutrophication of Lake Okechobee?"

You know as well as I that eutrophication is a natural process of aging and every viable body of water is eutrophic to a certain extent. Hypereutrophication is another matter entirely, whereby a lake is dead from a functional standpoint. Lake Okechobee, I think, is far, far from being hypereutrophic.

The first study of Lake Okechobee's water was done in 1969. The next was apparently carried out in 1973. More studies are now going on and their results should have not shown Lake Okechobee to be more eutrophic than it was in 1969. The death of any body of water is a long, slow process and the short timespan involved here does not indicate any clear trend.

Backpumping is necessary to the Glades in a number of ways. It is an established method of water control which accomplishes its designated purpose, the storage of water in the lake for use during dry periods and the prevention of flooding during the wet.

All the cities on the south, west and east sides of the lake drain or pump into canals (during wet periods and this water is back pumped into the lake. Likewise, all the agricultural lands around the lake pump their water back for storage during wet seasons.

In dry seasons, they withdraw from the "Bank" that is the lake for irrigation. But the fact is, more water is pumped in than is withdrawn. Without this pumping, the lake's level could fall as much as a foot.

And without this pumping, cities and agriculture would be placed in the position of withdrawing without adding to the account, further reducing the lake's level.

You say you will give us time to make "adequate" "adjustments" so our lifestyle will not be interrupted. But as yet, neither you nor anyone else has been able to give us a viable alternative to backpumping. The one plan I have studied is not, in my estimation, a viable alternative. It would simply mean water would flow south, or be pumped south, and lost through evaporation and into the ocean.

Florida has a history of taking too much water or not enough. This has not changed, but conditions are better because of the water controls that now exist.

In summation, without backpumping, we would have a much smaller Lake Okechobee, extremely costly "alternatives" would have to be designed and improvised, and our major industry, agriculture, already faced with low prices, would have to dig even further into its pocketbook.

We are concerned about agriculture. All 75,000 of us in the Glades depend almost entirely upon it for our livelihood in some direct or indirect manner.

I don't ask you to halt your battles for clean air and water. I only ask that you make entirely certain of your target, and make sure that target is the culprit you claim, before you do something we may all regret later.

So before we act, let's make certain the cure we propose is not as bad as the illness itself.

Thanks
Biff

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

If love of money is indeed the root of all evil, that explains a lot of things to me.

It explains, for instance, what's wrong with the gov'mint. Matter of fact, I've often wondered if that's why that moonbitch, many-eyed but no-faced megabureaucracy called the Internal Revenue Service sets the first of the year as income tax gathering time.

Get us all softened up with the Christmas spirit of giving and maybe we won't mind so much when we fill out our income tax return forms. You remember that, don't you? That's the document that legalizes the gov'mint's extortion.

I've even heard some people say that's what makes America so great. We're a country of people who willingly sit down every year and figure out our tax bills and then pay those bills...all willingly, of course.

Bull!

If all of us are so willing, why have all those characters on the federal payroll to make sure we not only pay but that we don't cheat?

Get right down to it, if it's all so willing, why does anyone out there think there's something going on right now might just be a revolution? There are a heck of a lot of people in this country today who don't pay a dime in income taxes...and a lot of 'em are getting away with it.

Trouble, of course, is that us wage slaves don't even have the opportunity to say we ain't going to pay no more taxes. That's taken care of before we see our paychecks. Probably the only good thing about our tax bills is there ain't too many of us audited.

There ain't too much need to check to see if someone's cheating you when you skim your share of the take, and it's getting to be a bigger share all the time, right off the top.

But...the only chance we got lies in lies...like saying I paid for that three-martini lunch the other day when what I really ate was a burger and a coke. I couldn't tell a lie like that anyway. I don't even like martinis and definitely not in the middle of the day.

All that's bad enough, but what really steams me is when they change the ground rules in the middle or at the end of the game. Now that's what I call Cheating with a capital "C".

Yeah, just cruise right on through the year on that little allowance and then find out at the end of the year: yeah, verily, after the year's all over, you gotta supply the Big Tax with documentation in the way of mileage charts dating back to year one.

Course there is the chance they won't audit you the first year ever you fill out a long form. Odds are they never did anything as long as you stuck to the short form because there ain't too many ways of putting one over on them but now they change the rules and there ain't no more short forms.

And comes the revolution, you gotta either learn Sanskrit, Hebrew or Pict, one of the three languages the long form's printed on, or you gotta get a translator to tell you where you sign the dotted line.

That's where you sign your life away because this is one game that if you win too big, you probably gonna lose later when they figure out you hired a mouthpiece and probly have something to hide.

But it probably won't matter by then anyway because the way I figure it, by the time I'm audited, this Catch 22 is gonna have me committed anyway. Franz Kafka would've loved it.

Matter of fact, St. John could've used it in Revelations. I can see it now. The Five Horsemen of the Apocalypse...War, Famine, Pestilence, Death and Taxes.

And if taxes don't make up one of the major plagues of mankind, I don't think any of the other four qualify either.

In the gossip column department, I guess most everybody's aware by now that Belle Glade Mayor Tom Altman expects to be a daddy before his term's up. Matter of fact, the way he's telling it, I'm not too sure wife, Deborah, had anything to do with it at all.

At any rate, just the way that even if it isn't all that uncommon for a mayor to become a father, it still brings an interesting picture to mind of Papa Mayor, Mama Mayor and Baby Mayor.

Yes, Virginia, Goldilocks lives.

If DER understands politics...

While chasing down the news story we did last week on the state Department of Environmental Regulation's decision to deny a permit to continue backpumping into Lake Okechobee, we ran across some startling information in a closely related area.

Phil Parsons, a Tallahassee attorney retained by the Florida Sugar Cane League and who's acting on the behalf of a lot of people in the Glades who aren't even aware of it, let us know in no certain terms we aren't yet out of the woods on that pesky water quality rule change.

That rule change, to refresh the memories of those who've forgotten, came up last year and contained enough goodies, such as a proposition the cities around the Lake Okechobee would have to get used to the idea of being drowned out rather than let water drain into the canals, to catch the attention of a lot of us around the Glades.

It caught the attention, in fact, of every city around the Lake, who joined up with virtually every farming interest in the area to go on record opposing the rule change as it was then written.

With assurances the protests were duly noted and the problem would be taken care of by staffers, and the usual number of new problems constantly cropping up, a lot of us promptly forgot about the rule change, assuming it was a problem of the past.

It isn't.

The rule change is still a definite possibility and it could be meaner than ever...especially to anyone who lives south of Orlando and north of South America.

Item: Lake Okechobee would be declared a national water resource. That means virtually no new developments around the big lake or any waters emptying into it...and positively no new agricultural development.

Item: There is only one body of water, aside from drainage ditches, in the state now classified as agricultural water. Believe it or not, that body is the Miami River from Biscayne Bay for two miles into the heart of Miami.

How many farmers are there in downtown Miami?

And remember those other agricultural canals the DER was going to reclassify? Don't hold your breath because nothing's been done in that direction. Seems DER doesn't want to run afoul of federal guidelines for reclassification which demand some natural change...even though those same federal guidelines were ignored when the waters all around the state were originally classified.

Item: If our information is correct, the staff members of DER not only have no intention of waiting for 208 studies of non-point water pollution and how to combat it, being done around the state at a cost of millions of dollars to the taxpayers, those 208 studies, when they are completed, will probably be ignored when there's any conflict between them and DER policy.

Item: When the canals running through the Glades agricultural area were originally classified for conservation and wildlife rather than agriculture, DER staffers assured the growers they (DER) had no intention or authority of regulating agriculture. Funny how criteria and their enforcement change with the times but once a body of water is classified, it's also calcified.

Phil Parsons has been doing a great imitation of the original Voice of the Wilderness. It's time those of us affected by the rule change, and that's everyone in the Glades, wake up, take notice and do something about it.

Like attend those hearings in Tallahassee in March and make ourselves heard.

Politics is apparently the language best understood by DER, as well as other bureaucracies. So be it. Let's learn the language and speak it loud enough and clear enough to be heard all the way to Tallahassee...or Washington if need be.

Do You Know??

It's a heck of a note, as Bob Castlerline observed, when a man has to go to the slammer to make good.

But that's exactly what happened and therein hangs the tale on our front page this week.

Castlerline did go to the slammer, landing at Glades Correctional Institution, and he did make good, editing Do You Know, GCI's newsletter; good enough to win four national awards recently.

Recognition of one's efforts is a need shared by us all. Go long enough without it and we tend to give up and do sloppier work. With it, there's a real tendency to try harder.

Unfortunately, as Castlerline also pointed out, there is all too few chances for recognition, to feel good about what you're doing, in prison. Not very many people outside FCI have ever heard of Do You Know.

Which is why we're delighted with the chance to tell the world, or at least our small part of it, about at least one man who's made good in our local prison.

It's history now

TWENTY YEARS AGO

January 31, 1968
BELLE GLADE-Growers have begun the task of picking themselves up from the recent battle with Nature and produce was harvested in some quantity Monday; however, the output is still restricted.

Rainfall the past week has measured 2.2 inches as compared to 2.41 last week. Forecasters see no frost danger Friday or Saturday, but some rain is expected. Rainfall around the lake ranged .25 to 1.91 on Jan. 24, the last heavy rainfall period.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

January 30, 1948
BELLE GLADE-The first annual meeting of the Belle Glade Farmer's Cooperative was held Jan. 27 at the Woman's Club in Belle Glade. Twenty-one members were present out of a total membership of 26. Dinner was served before the meeting was called to order by President Price.

Definite plans for the future progress of the Co-op were discussed and debated upon by all members. A plan was accepted by those present for the future expansion of the association into other fields.

Dear Sir:

One of President Carter's earliest campaign promises was to reduce the size of the bureaucracy, but now, in the so-called Labor Reform Act, he asks for an increase in the size of the National Labor Relations Board from five to seven members.

The present board heard five cases in one recent year, most decisions being made at the administrative level. Of 30,000 unfair labor practice cases filed in one year, 96 percent were settled in 55 days. Each member has a staff of 20 attorneys - chairman 21 - for a total of 101 lawyers, while our Supreme Court has 29 counselors for its entire caseload!

The president has stated repeatedly that energy is the most crucial, single issue confronting his administration. Vice President Mondale, addressing the AFL-CIO biennial conference stated, "The administration has been greater, precisely past year (1976) than past year of Labor Law Reform in the Senate."

But, Carter's batting 500. For every broken promise to the people, he keeps one to organized Labor.

Sincerely yours,
John Wadum, Jr.

Christian Comments

Last week we looked at how the Holy Spirit has worked in the lives of men as recorded in history by the Hebrew writers. The Holy Spirit has not been confined to the New Testament, but reveals Himself most conspicuously in the Old Testament.

With an understanding of how God used the Holy Spirit in the Old Testament, we want to try to give a clearer concept of the Holy Spirit and how He related Himself in the New Testament.

We could find it in the Day of Pentecost when the Holy Spirit descended upon the masses and moved the masses of people into going out into Christian witnessing that turned the world upside down at that time.

Jesus had promised the disciples an infusion of the Spirit at the time of his separation from them. In direct explicit terms he had said "Ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost."

Not many days hence, he found the disciples waiting in an upper room at Jerusalem, assembled for the purpose of devotions, dwelling together as brothers, in a cordial manner of affection, cherishing the memory of their beloved and departed past Master and expecting the accomplishments of his promise, a descending of the Holy Spirit upon them.

At this time, it is stated that they were filled with the Holy Ghost, in other words, they were made partakers of the Divine influence, at this descending, or infusion of the Holy Spirit, that Jesus promised, we find many things took place. They were given the gift of speaking in tongues, also the gift of interpreting those tongues, and they were given the Divine power to heal those who had physical ailments.

I think it is important for us to realize here too, that once they were given these gifts, they just didn't keep them held within themselves; they did not keep it a secret between them and God; they went out and shared these gifts with other people.

Today, we find ourselves being given the gift of Salvation, being given the gift of greater spirituality in our pilgrim age as we strive to work closer and to walk closer with Jesus Christ. Yet, many people become very selfish in this—they want to hold it in, they want to keep it within themselves—they don't want to go out and share.

Jesus has told us that we should go out and tell others about him—we should go out and share these gifts with others. What is a gift if we don't have the ability to go out and share it with others.

New rector assumes duties for St. John's

St. John's Episcopal Church at 225 NW Avenue G in Belle Glade will have a banner day Sunday when it welcomes a new rector and holds its mortgage burning.

The new minister is Rev. Charles Farrar, 53, who is moving from North Carolina this week to assume his new duties.

He will be introduced and installed as the rector during morning services by Bishop James Duncan, who will also officiate at the mortgage burning ceremony.

"I'm very pleased to be in Belle Glade," said Rev. Farrar, "and am looking forward to moving my wife and two daughters here this summer." Rev. Farrar's wife is a school teacher and will not be able to move to Belle Glade until her term of school ends. She will, however, be at the church this weekend to see her husband installed.

Rev. Farrar is a native of Massachusetts and a graduate of Yale University. He did graduate work at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and attended General Seminary in New York City. He was ordained in 1971.

Rev. Farrar is familiar with South Florida as he has been a member of a church in Lantana 12 years ago before moving to North Carolina.

One of the many reasons he's happy to be in Belle Glade, said Rev. Farrar, "is it's so nice to be warm again."

Methodist men set annual pancake dinner

BELLE GLADE—The annual pancake supper by the men of Community United Methodist Church in Belle Glade will be held from 5 to 8 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 22 in Jameson Hall at the church.

The pancake-sausage supper is open to the public and no reservations are required. The prices will be $2 for adults and $1 for children. Proceeds from the supper will go to support youth activities and mission work.

PROGRESS

Progress is on the march. There is a great boom in building. Cures are being found for maladies that have killed mankind for centuries. Industry is doing magnificent things. But what sort of progress is being made in human relations—this term that includes respect for the person and property of others and good will among men.

There is one agency striving for progress in this field. This agency is the church. At the birth of Jesus Christ, the following prophesy and promise was given to mankind by a host of angels: "Glory to God in the Highest Heaven! Peace upon earth among men of goodwill!" Luke 2:14. (Phillips translation). Only when the majority of men on earth are men of goodwill, will we have peace.

Attend church this week and align yourself with the forces of God.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Coleman Adv. Ser.

Life of Jesus Christ topic of church meeting

"Jesus had none of the human credentials that we usually associate with a superstar." Despite this, notes George Louis Aghamalian in a Christian Science lecture, scheduled this Sunday, February 5, Christ Jesus has probably influenced more lives than any other person in history.

How could a man who never went to college, never wrote a book, never held an office, have such a profound impact on mankind? Mr. Aghamalian asks his audience.

Referring to the popular Broadway musical "Jesus Christ Superstar," the lecturer continues, "For Jesus to have so completely changed peoples' lives, he'd have to be a superstar in the highest sense of the word. But to also heal the sick of incurable diseases - to even raise the dead - he'd have to be more than a superstar."

Police chief tells Rotary of city radio problems

BELLE GLADE—The local police chief told the Rotary Club Tuesday of serious radio communications problems within his department and demonstrated new equipment that will help solve some of them.

Chief Bill Mathis gave a few statistics on the Belle Glade Police Department, noting they handled 24,000 service calls last year, meaning each of the 24 patrolmen handled 1,000 calls each or an average of three calls per day.

He said the department contains 64 employees, but the majority are support personnel such as dispatchers and school crossing guards.

One of the most serious problems the department has is that it shares its radio frequency with South Dade and the larger transmitter to the south overrides Belle Glade's.

He demonstrated this graphically, playing a tape of a dispatcher who was attempting to send units to the scene of an accident. South Dade constantly interrupted the local radio's transmissions.

The police department and city is working on the problem, noted Mathis, and have applied for a new frequency from the Division of Communications. But there are only 57 available frequencies in the state, he said.

Mathis demonstrated the newly-arrived PREP system the city has purchased. The system consists of personal radios attached to an officer's belt with the microphone attached to his collar.

With this system, the radio is with the patrolman wherever he goes, even when he is not in the patrol car answering a call.

PREP also features a "private line," meaning the radio will remain completely silent until its "tone" is keyed by either the dispatcher or another officer.

This at least allows the officer to know someone is trying to contact him, said Mathis, even though it is understood the new equipment will continue to pick up South Dade transmissions.

Mathis, who is a member of the Lions, was given a Rotary Four Way Test desk set by Rotarian Ernie McCroan, for presenting the program.

Farmers set meeting with governor hopefuls

Agribusiness leaders from all over Florida are flying in to Orlando for a "Close Encounter of the Second Kind" with the major candidates for the Office of Governor of Florida. ALL the leading candidates have been confirmed to appear at the annual meeting of the Agribusiness Institute of Florida.

Lt. Governor Jim Williams, who had a conflict, has changed his plans to enable him to attend the annual meeting at the Park Plaza in Downtown Orlando. For awhile it appeared that the Lt. Governor would be the only major candidate missing for the Feb. 10 meeting. However, the Institute received word today from the Lt. Governor's office confirming his attendance.

Former Governor Claude Kirk, who plans to run on the independent ticket, has also indicated that he will attend. Kirk, who was a Republican Governor, must submit the required number of signatures to get his name on the November ballot.

Immediately after the initial presentations by each candidate, the meeting will be opened to questions from the floor. This will provide the leadership of Florida's vast agricultural community with a chance to point direct questions at the man who will be elected Governor next November.

Jerry Chicone, Jr., an Orlando citrus grower, is chairman of the Institute's annual meeting. He reports that anyone who wishes to attend the $12 per person luncheon should call the Institute office in Orlando at 305/425-2474.

An alphabetical list of the major candidates who will have five minutes to speak before the membership and guests of the Agribusiness Institute is: Jack Eckerd, Congressman Lou Frey, Florida Senator Bob Graham, Raleigh Greene, Claude Kirk, Attorney General Robert Shovin, Secretary of State Bruce Smathers, Jacksonville Mayor Hans Tanzer and Florida Lt. Governor Jim Williams.

Survivors include his widow, Barbara McCormick of Belle Glade; two daughters, Mary Katherine Whitaker of Fort Lauderdale and Barbara Ann Whitaker of Tampa; two brothers, Hubert McCormick of Westville and Dennis McCormick of Panama City and two sisters, Louise McCormick of Bonifay and Martha Pabst of Titusville.

Palbearers were L.K. Sands, Billy Brewer, Bobby Champion, David League, George Rashley, Cecil Bair, Floyd Smith, Jack Rashley and Pat Harrison. Burial was at Port Mayaca Cemetery. Mixson Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Profile In Business

Chester H. Mullis is the owner of Mullis Realty and has been for the past ten years. Mullis Realty specializes in all phases of the real estate business both in Belle Glade and Pahokee. Mullis handles residential, commercial and land property.

Mullis was born and raised in the Glades. He grew up in Pahokee and graduated from Pahokee High School. He has attended Palm Beach Junior College and the University of Tampa. He is licensed by the Florida Real Estate Commission.

In order to become a real estate broker, Mullis was required to take a salesman's course and pass it, and then pass a state exam. He then had to work actively in the field of real estate for one year. When the year was up, he took another course and passed it, and this was followed by another state exam. He then qualified as a broker.

Mullis began in the insurance business when he was twenty years old. He sold life insurance, and then went into the real estate business. He then returned to the insurance field, this time selling general insurance.

When asked how he got into the real estate business, Mullis replied that he had been playing golf for his spare time away from the insurance business, and when he realized he was a lousy golfer, he decided to do something better with his time, so he took up real estate.

Mullis recently sold his insurance business to devote full time to real estate. He said that the real estate end of the business had become more than he could handle along with insurance, so to do justice to the public, he decided to devote time to just one business, and he chose real estate.

In talking about real estate sales in general, Mullis said that the business is really very right now. He expects a 10% increase in population in this area in the next five years, and says that will also help business.

In his office there are six realtor associates, all of whom are members of the Realtor's Association and the West Palm Beach Board of Realtors.

When asked his opinion of the Glades, Mullis said he really likes living in the Glades. He thinks it offers a slower, less complex life than the coast, yet we are only 45 minutes away from the beaches and night life. As an avid fisherman, he also maintains that the Glades has one of the best fresh water fishing lakes in the United States.

Mullis and his wife, Judy, who also works with him, have two children, Lisa, 16 and Sandy, 9, who attend Christian Day School. Mullis is the treasurer of the Kiwanis Club, and he and his family are members of the First Baptist Church.

In his spare time he enjoys hunting, fishing and playing tennis.

Mullis Realty is located at 132 S. Main Street in Belle Glade. It is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. five days a week.

This demonstration was slated for the January meeting, but nursing emergency service prohibited the presentation at that time.

Also beginning their move today will be the Planning and Building Department and the Recreation Department.

City Finance Director Frank Anderson said his department will begin the move from the existing city hall at 33 West Ave. A Friday and will probably take two days to get moved into the new building, with work continuing Saturday.

Anderson said anyone wanting to pay their water bills or conduct other business with the finance department Friday would have to wait until Monday or their business by mail.

Monday, when the move is completed, water bills will be paid in the lobby of the new city hall, where Anderson's department has a cashier's window just inside the main entrance.

All the departments listed above will have their own quarters in the new structure.

City Clerk June Boglioli said the city is also planning an all-day affair Feb. 10 to get the public acquainted with their city hall, including a dedication ceremony and an open house.

Members of the Palm Beach County Legislative Delegation will have first crack at the facilities that day with a public hearing beginning at 9:30 a.m.

The city commission will host a luncheon at noon with members of the delegation and other dignitaries as the guests.

The public part of the festivities will get underway at 12:30 p.m. with a dedication ceremony.

Mrs. Boglioli said the ceremony will begin with the flag-raising by a color guard from the Belle Glade Police Department. The national anthem will be played by the Glades Central High School stage band and Henry Miller will sing the words.

She said speakers will include one or more of the state senators and representatives present and, probably, Dan Mica, who will represent U.S. Representative Paul Rogers.

City Building Inspector Kenneth Retterer will present a certificate of occupancy to Mayor Tom Altman and Altman will present a plaque and a savings bond to Wayne Boynton for suggesting the address of the new city complex.

After that, Mrs. Boglioli said Altman and possibly County Commissioner Bill Bailey will deliver talks and there will be a ribbon cutting ceremony.

She said the open house will begin at 3 p.m. and go through 7 p.m. that evening, with hors d'oeuvre being served. There will be guided tours of the building for the public.

they already show enthusiasm for the project, which he says is scheduled to be completed by the end of the seven week term.

The students will be working on the project two and a half hours each Tuesday evening, putting a total of 17.5 hours on the mural. He said the paints being supplied by Titum are only in the primary colors and will be mixed by the class members themselves.

"There'll be several scenes," he said, "but they'll all tie into the central theme of the outdoor scene."

Some of the students are interested in painting people and that's what they'll do. Others will be concentrating on trees or other objects outdoors and the rest will be working on the finish work of the walls and arches.

He said the group project will also tie in the various styles of the students and he saw no problem in blending those styles into the overall work.

Ketchum said the mural isn't the first time he's tried a different approach at teaching art.

"In the past," he said, "I'd get comments that, 'You always tell us what to do but you never do it yourself.' Last term, I started out telling the class just to watch for the first two weeks while I worked on a couple of paintings."

"No questions, just watch," he said. "Then, on the third week, I let them start asking questions and after that, they started doing their own work."

Ketchum said the one problem he expects with the mural which wouldn't normally be encountered by the students is the painting's sheer size.

"It's one thing to be working on a small canvas," he said. "When you're doing that, it's easy to maintain perspective. You make a mistake and it's easy to see but when you're working on a mural, you have to constantly step back and see if what you're doing is right and if it isn't, you have to analyze why."

He said he is also planning what can be done in the larger walls inside the main dining room of the restaurant and said he could involve a number of classes over several terms in the overall project.

newspaper is the most-read one since he's been working on it because of a letter from Florida Parole Commission Chairman Charles J. Scriven he printed which sets down in question and answer form what an inmate has to do to be considered for parole.

"I try to provide answers and information without a lot of red tape and gobblegook," he said.

He said another goal he has is to give recognition to people at GCI for accomplishments and efforts they've made.

"When we can give recognition," Casterline said, "where we can, it helps to establish a feeling of self-worth. We're at the bottom of the barrel here."

And what does Casterline think of his own recent recognition in the journalism contest?

"It's a heck of a note when you have to land in the slammer to make good."

flies an hour with any safety and that was in a 22-foot wellcraft."

The McMillans, both avid fishermen who have fished Lake Okechobee for years, had set out at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in Gerald's bass boat. They were preparing for a fishing tournament Sunday at Okeetane and had earlier marked a spot by dropping an anchored plastic jug from an airplane piloted by Belle Glade grocer James Martin.

Estes said he understood they had gone to the spot Saturday by following a compass heading and when their boat was found, it was near the buoy they'd dropped from Martin's airplane.

He said he searched the lake in the Harbor Patrol boat until 4 a.m. Sunday, when he came back to Slim's to rest until daybreak.

By early Sunday morning, about 50 or 60 private boats, the Sheriff's helicopter, a Coast Guard helicopter out of Homestead Air Base and several private planes had joined the search.

So. Bay man flim-flammed

A 76-year old South Bay man is $2,500 poorer, but wiser, after he was left holding the bag by a flimflam team in Clewiston last week.

According to Lt. Raymond Jones of the Clewiston Police Department, the flimflam victim (who will remain anonymous to spare further embarrassment) picked up a black male hitchhiker Thursday, Jan. 26, about two miles south of South Bay.

Upon arriving in South Bay, the black man asked directions to Ray's Rooming House. When the driver said he had never heard of Ray's, the flimflam man's (secret) partner, a white man, sauntered to the car and entered the conversation. The white flimflam artist steered the conversation to card tricks.

He quickly proceeded to win $25 from the black man, who flashed a big wad of bills. Conspiratorially, he told the intended victim they could take the black man for more money if he had some "faith money."

They drove to Clewiston, where the victim withdrew $2,500 from a safety deposit box at a local bank. The soon-to-be-believed South Bay man rejoined his two new acquaintances in front of a local shopping center, where the white man was holding a paper bag.

After handing over the $2,500, which he thought went into the bag, the South Bay man agreed to hold the bag while the flimflam men went to see a woman they knew.

Still standing in front of the shopping center an hour later, he opened the bag and found that it was filled with paper towels. The two men had made off with his $2,500.

One of those private planes was piloted by Martin, who took Ann McMillan to the spot where the buoy had been dropped. They saw the sunken boat from the air and circled until the Sheriff's helicopter could get to the scene.

Estes said he was in the first boat to get to the swamped bass boat, along with Hendry County Deputy Sheriff Carlos Sloan and another Hendry deputy he couldn't identify. He said there was no indication at the boat on the whereabouts of the two brothers.

He said the boat was found right-side up on the bottom, with anchor lines out fore and aft and the brothers' fishing gear tied to a coaxial cable set up for a CB radio.

"The boat was in about three and a half to four feet of water and was resting on a rock reef that sometimes protrudes from the water in the summertime," Estes said.

The bodies of first George and then Gerald McMillan were found about 3:30 p.m. by searchers in a private boat. Estes said the two brothers were carried to the Clewiston Marina and then to Hendry General Hospital. They were later transported to Glades General Hospital.

Estes said both men were wearing heavy clothing, including jackets and heavy boots, and life jackets.

"We don't really know any more," Estes said, "about what happened. Anything else is purely speculation. I have my opinions, from having fished the lake, but nobody really knows."

Alcohol center stays open

SOUTH BAY—Fears about the closing of alcohol rehabilitation center closing here have subsided for the time being, according to Ed Amos, director of the facility operated by the Florida Farmworkers Council, and the center will remain open indefinitely.

Amos said December there was a real chance the center might have to close but he said he had managed to work things out with Mrs. Vernita Cox, the landlady, and it would remain open for some time to come, although he is still looking for another place to house the program.

He said the complete line of normal services, including detoxification, an out-patient clinic, a 30 day residential program and a primary care center are being offered.

The center has been opened for about three years and has already treated more than 1,200 clients.

Laundry session set

BELLE GLADE—The best way of saving the family laundry while saving energy will be covered in a workshop scheduled to be held at the Palm Beach County Glades Office Building at 10 a.m. Feb. 8.

The workshop will be sponsored by the Extension Home Economics Service, according to agent Arlen C. Jones and Ms. Alicia M. Hornrich, home economics agent, will be the instructor.

The program will focus on laundry techniques and procedures used in the home and the possible ways to reduce the waste of available energy. It will also cover laundry additives, stain removal and purchasing laundry equipment.

Lost books are sought

REQUIEM FOR LOST BOOKS
By Elsie Sims

Books are lost in many places. Football games, auto races; At the beach, in the gym, loaned to "her," or maybe "him."

In the drug store, on the bike. Maybe on that Boy Scout hike. In the classroom, under the bed. Stuck in shelves, but seldom read.

During this week, return a book to its proper library nook. No questions asked — just bring them back. We'll put them on shelf or rack.

Check your home as well as return books checked out by your brothers, sisters, cousins, friends, and we can again them lend.

Students at Glades Central High School are being given the opportunity to take in overdue library books without being charged a fine. Students may return books to libraries on either the main or annex campus between now and Valentine's Day, Tuesday, Feb. 14.

Emergency training exercise

Local ham radio operators participate in test

BELLE GLADE—Ham radio operators from Clewiston, Belle Glade, Pahokee and South Bay were among many throughout the United States participating in a simulated emergency radio communications test over the weekend.

The exercise was a training procedure for disaster emergency preparedness. During the exercise, messages were communicated pertaining to a simulated hurricane reportedly striking in

Ft. Pierce.

Condition I, the "stand-by emergency" message, was given at 8 a.m. Saturday morning. Condition II, "hurricane imminent," occurred at 9 a.m. and condition III, "full emergency," occurred from 9:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

The simulated hurricane traveled across the state of Florida ending up in the Gulf of Mexico at Venice, Fla., with ham operators alerted at each stage of the hurricane.

Charles Rhinehart of Pahokee, Emergency Coordinator for Western Palm Beach County, said the ham radio operators maintain a liaison with the Red Cross in West Palm Beach and in Miami.

Simulated emergency shelters were opened in Belle Glade, South Bay, Pahokee and Canal Point, Rhinehart said, with facilities available for 1000 people.

Simulated emergencies such as the hurricane in this area were also in effect in other areas throughout the U.S.

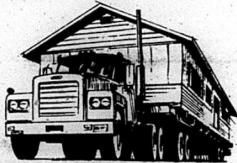

Rhinehart noted that he received several messages that were not preceded by the words "Test message" from the north where emergencies due to the cold weather were actually in existence.

Classes will be offered at the beginning of March located at the Florida Power and Light office in Belle Glade to help ham radio enthusiasts acquire licenses. For ham radio owners agree it is both a fun and a life-saving piece of equipment.

Plant clinic and seminar is offered in the Glades

BELLE GLADE—A plant clinic and a seminar on rooting domestic plants will be offered to Glades residents Friday by Palm Beach County Urban Horticulturist Gene Joyner at the Palm Beach County Glades Office Building.

The clinic will begin at 1 p.m. and is set up for the purpose of allowing the public to bring in any problems they are having with their trees, shrubbery or lawns.

Joyner will be available to speak on the problems.

Bulletins on various subjects are also available at the agricultural extension office, where the clinic will be held, and those attending the plant clinic are encouraged to pick up bulletins of interest to them.

Anyone unable to come to the office during the clinic hours may call in plant problems to 996-6511, Ext. 33, and Joyner will try to answer questions over the telephone.

The free clinic isn't a formal class or lecture and will be conducted on a very informal basis. Beginning at 2:30 of the same day, Joyner will lead a seminar on rooting plants or starting them from seed.

"Unfortunately," he said, "there is a lot of misinformation available on proper methods of propagation and in some cases people have a great deal of difficulty in starting plants simply because they never get the correct information."

He said he will present a slide-illustrated lecture on propagation, including rooting, starting from seed and grafting, with pamphlets to help provide further information.

Aluminum
scheduled

BELLE GLADE—Residents of the Belle Glade area are receiving cash from Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Company for their recycling efforts.

The February schedule for the mobile aluminum recycling unit, located at the City Park, 500 West Canal Street, is every Thursday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Reynolds pays 17 cents a pound for aluminum beverage cans and other clean household aluminum items such as pie pans, foil, frozen food and dinner trays, dip, pudding and meat containers.

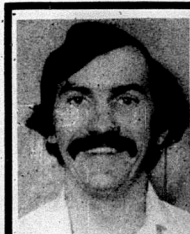

Dave Vardell, District Manager, Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Company, said, "Families will be amazed how quickly they'll accumulate recyclable aluminum by keeping a separate container in their kitchen for used household aluminum."

Vardell explained, "Simply toss rinsed aluminum items, such as empty beverage cans, foil, or TV dinner trays into the special container. Soon it will be filled and ready to redeem for 17 cents a pound."

Glades Central loses game, but winds up with a state ranking

BELLE GLADE—The Glades Central Raiders lost their lead of the Suncoast West Conference Saturday in a 74-56 defeat at the hands of number one ranked North Shore but gained a place in the statewide rankings, earning the number ten slot.

Hyped up by a junior varsity victory only minutes before, the Raider varsity managed to control the Mustangs the first two quarters and part of the third before buckling under the pressure of a barrage of field goals in the third and another late in the fourth.

The loss snapped the Raider win streak at nine, the best ever achieved by a Glades Central team, and gave the undisputed conference lead to the Mustangs. The Raiders are now 12-5 for the season and 5-1 in the conference.

"Defensively," Raider Coach Jay Seider said, "we didn't do that badly. Nobody has held North Shore to two field goals for an entire quarter and that's what we did in the second period."

"Offensively," Seider said, "we weren't used to working with the combination on the floor and we didn't get the execution we needed."

Seider explained that he had decided he needed extra size on the court against the towering North Shore team and had substituted David Jones for Melvin Waston and moved around two other players.

The Raider cause wasn't helped either when Seider lost two of his big guns as Jessie Haines and Michael Staples fouled out in the final minutes.

"The final score is what upsets me," the head Raider said. "That wasn't reflective of the game as a whole." With Haines and Staples out of the court, the Mustangs pounded in at least eight points in the last minute and a half, providing a large part of the 18-point scoring difference for the game.

The first period of the game ended with the Mustangs leading by two, the largest margin in that period but Seider said he didn't think Glades Central's man to man defense was working out against the taller North Shore team so he switched to a zone defense for the remainder of the game.

The zone apparently baffled the Mustangs for the entire second period and the first few minutes of the third period, giving the Raiders a 10-4 edge in the second quarter and a four-point lead at the end of the half, which they rapidly widened to eight points early in the third period.

Glades Central's control was helped along by an aggressive defense which allowed the usually high scoring Mustangs to four points in the second period but when North Shore unravelled the zone defense, the Mustangs poured in a total of 29 points in the third period compare to 18 for the Raiders.

North Shore's final eight point spurt put the icing on the cake as the Raiders were virtually powerless in the last 100 seconds of play.

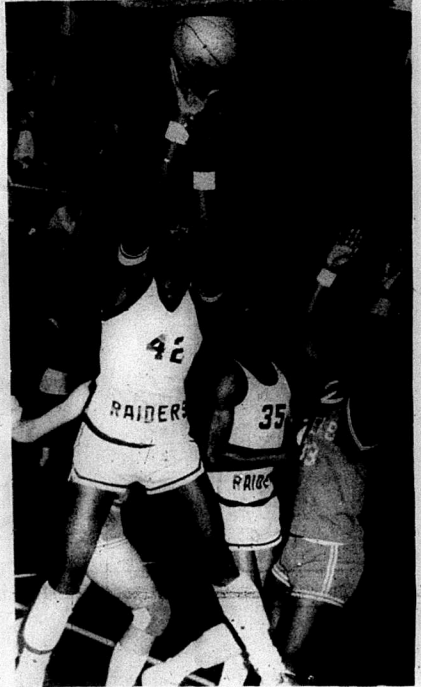

"Hopefully," Seider said, "we'll be a little more relaxed at home (when the two teams meet for the second time this year on Feb. 11 in the Glades Central gym). I think we realize now that North Shore is a little human too and we can beat 'em."

As an indication of the Mustang's concern for the game, Seider pointed out North Shore only played seven players where they usually play all ten members of the team. He pointed out also that while they weren't keying on him, the Raiders managed to hold All-American guard Darryl Mitchell to 11 points, less than half his 26-point per game average and possibly his smallest scoring effort since he was a sophomore.

Seider said he was pleased to see the large turnout of Glades Central fans. There was not official count, but an estimated 250 to 300 fans followed the Raiders to the confrontation.

Individually, Haines was once again the leading scorer, sinking 25 points and snagging six rebounds. Unlike a number of recent games, however, Haines was the only Raider scoring in double figures.

He was followed by Rufus Chambers with seven points and nine rebounds, Arthur Slater with eight points and seven rebounds, Melvin Weston with eight and two, Michael Staples with six points and three assists and David Jones with two points and eight rebounds. A total of nine players entered the game.

RAIDER SHOOTING STAR Jessie Haines sinks a field goal Friday against the Clewiston Tigers. Haines scored a total of 40 points in the 100-64 win over the visiting team to tie the school record for most points scored in one game.

Blue Devils ranked in Class AA cage poll

PAHOKEE—Pahokee's basketball Blue Devils have climbed back into the Class AA top ten, according to the latest poll released by the Florida Sports-writers Association on Tuesday.

Coach Eddie Rhodes' ball club is ranked 10th and is in a tie with Miami Belen.

The Devils record slipped to 8-4 and 3-2 in the Suncoast West Conference after Tuesday night's 85-69 loss to North Shore. North Shore is 20-0 and is holding down the top spot in Class AAA.

Glades Day adds two easy ones

BELLE GLADE—Glades Day added two more easy victories to its win column in basketball action this week, but is faced with a full slate over the weekend and early next week.

Jupiter Christian on Tuesday night wound up an easy 90-41 Gator victory with the hometown team lead by the 16-points of Don Henderson. Ken Buckner filled 12 points and Tommy Duda, Jon Scruggs, and Winston Byrd all had ten each.

Duda and Scruggs tied for rebounding awards with nine each and "Most everybody else had six or seven apiece."

The Junior Varsity won their game handsily as well, beating the Jupiter Christian Cubs 73-17.

Friday night, the Gators coasted to an even easier win over Palm Beach Academy 92-19. Scruggs led the victors with 14 points followed by Byrd with 13, Buckner with 12, and Duda, Henderson, Quique Echave, and Steve Richey all picking up ten.

Duda had 14 rebounds and Byrd 13 and Echave assisted on 13.

This week, the Gators will take on Benjamin of Lake Park Tuesday night away, Jupiter Christian Friday night, also away, and Christian Day at home Saturday night.

On Monday, they play Summit Christian at home and Tuesday night, face Moore Haven away.

Coach Dick Schmidt named Quique Echave this week's Player of the Week. Echave, a 6-5 junior, starts in both basketball and football for the Gators and his game average is 10.2 points and 8 rebounds or assists. He plays guard and last year, made the All-Academic team for the area.

AN ATHLETIC BALLET could have been the production Saturday night when the Junior Varsity Glades Central basketball team upset the North Shore jayvees but Terry Hammond (Number 24) seemed a little too interested in recovering the ball for a true artist. Hammond went high to grab the ball from the midst of two Junior Mustangs as Greg Baines and Eugene Wells offer moral support.

IT WAS A STRUGGLE but Mary West of the Glades Central girls' basketball team went into a flock of Tigerettes and came up with the ball Friday to help post a 53-30 win and maintain their undefeated record.

Pahokee is blinded by Martin County

PAHOKEE—Thursday night, Jan. 26, the girls basketball team of Pahokee High School hosted a game with the Martin County Tigers, in which the Tigers pulled a win over Pahokee.

Because of the overpowering effort by the Martin County Tigers, Pahokee was unable to win and Martin County went home with a 38-point victory over Pahokee.

Although tremendous rebounding, led by Martin County's Shelia Tyson, gave the Tigers the lead at the end of the half with a score of 30-10, the Devils wouldn't give up trying. During the third, Pahokee's Sharon Powell was adding points to the scoreboard but, nevertheless, good defensive and offensive playing by the Tigers gave Martin County the lead at the end of the third, 53-15.

During the last quarter of the game Pahokee seemed to slow a bit and it wasn't hard for Martin County to finish pulling the win over Pahokee's Devils and go home with a victory of 59-21 over the Devils.

Host families are needed for students

Florida families are needed to host English speaking European teachers as guests in their homes for a one or two week period this summer, it was announced today by The American Host Foundation.

American Host is the only non-profit, non-governmental program designed to show the American way of life to European teachers by pairing them with American families. It is a nationwide home hospitality program which is endorsed by the Department of State.

Now in its seventeenth year, American Host has opened the doors to better understanding for more than 10,000 English speaking European teachers who have passed on their new understanding to their students, friends and colleagues when they have returned to their homelands.

Being a Host Family is open to anyone who has the desire to increase understanding and friendship between Europeans and Americans. Host Families are required to provide a private room and meals for their guest and to give their guest the opportunity to meet friends and neighbors and to see local sights of interest.

American Host Foundation arranges all transportation, but Host Families are asked to meet their guest upon arrival in their area. Visitors and Host Families have the opportunity to correspond for at least a month prior to the visit.

Anyone interested in being a Host Family or learning more about the Foundation's activities may write: American Host Program, 12747 Brookhurst Street, Garden Grove, California 92640, telephone: (714) 537-5711

First time ever

2B—EVERGLADES HOMEFRONT, Thurs., Feb. 2, 1978

Raiders win triple header

BELLE GLADE—Glades Central basketball players won a first-time-ever triple header Friday as the junior varsity Raiders snapped a 13-game Tiger winning streak, with a 53-30 squeaker, the girls slammed the Tigerettes, 53-30 and the varsity Raiders blew away their opposition, 100-64.

All ten Raiders played in the home game and all ten scored but Jessie Haines took the limelight again by scoring 40 points to tie the school record for one game set by Michael Pringle two years ago.

"Of 22 points we scored in the first quarter," Coach Jay Seider said, "Jessie scored 14. Basically, we shot well against them and played good defense. We caused them to have 30 turnovers."

"In the second half, we didn't press but we played a tough hard court trap. They couldn't handle that."

The Raiders also controlled the boards, bringing in 30 rebounds to Clewiston's 25 and had one of their better shooting nights, sinking 54 per cent of their attempted field goals.

In individuals scoring, Arthur

Slater followed Haines' 40 points and 11 rebounds with 19 points and 12 rebounds. Rufus Chambers was the only other Raiders scoring in double digits, sinking 13 points and catching 11 rebounds.

Melvin West and David Jones each made six points and three rebounds, Ollie Sheppard made six points and a rebound, Edgar Arnett made five and two, Michael Staples made four points and six assists, Joe Byrd made four points and four assists and Charles Perkins made one point and two rebounds.

The Raiders next play Jupiter at home Friday night, their only game this week.

The action will heat up again next week though when they play Cardinal Newman at home Tuesday, travel to Clewiston on Friday for another triple header and meet North Shore Saturday night in the Raider gym.

Following their defeat at the hands of North Shore Saturday, the Raiders are now 12-5 for the season and 5-1 in conference play.

HEART BALL TICKETS were being readied last week by members of the ticket committee for sale for the upcoming Heart Ball, scheduled to take place Feb. 24 at the Belle Glade Elks Lodge. Committee members Mrs. Rupert Mock; Chairman Mrs. Deborah Altman and members, Mrs. Eddie Jones and Mrs. Douglas Wedgworth, said they were forming the list of people to be contacted. Mrs. Altman said anyone interested in buying a ticket (they're $25 per couple) said they may be obtained by calling herself at 996-9463 or Mrs. Wedgworth at 996-9518. Committee members who weren't present included Mrs. Jerry McKee, Sr., Mrs. Dennis Wedgworth, Mrs. Henry Rionda, Mrs. Gene Farley and Mrs. Donald Mas of Pahokee.

Local man gets life for robbery

A 24-year-old Belle Glade man who robbed the Big V convenience store at Hookers Point last March has been sentenced to life in prison, Capt. Herb Higdon said. Circuit Court Judge James R. Adams sentenced Willie McKenzie to spend the rest of his natural life in prison following a recent trial in LaBelle.

McKenzie has 30 days to appeal the sentence. He has been transported to Palm Beach County to face additional charges.

McKenzie was wounded in the head March 17, 1977, following a shootout with Jack Rashley, Dandy Bread route supervisor.

According to Sheriff Earl Dyess, McKenzie had robbed the store attendant Dora D. Bailey of about $200 in cash. As he left the store and walked toward Rashley's bread truck, he allegedly said, "You are next," to Rashley and fired a .22 caliber pistol.

Capt. Herb Higdon said Rashley drew a .38 caliber revolver and fired it one time, the slug striking the truck's rearview mirror and splitting in half.

One-half the slug struck McKenzie in the forehead, who fled the scene on foot.

Chief of Police Wilbur Miller and Deputy (now lieutenant) James Robinson began searching the area and traced McKenzie first to McDuffie's Bar on SR 832 and then to the Florida Lettuce Company

Barracks where McKenzie was found bleeding from his head wound.

Moore Haven refinery to open, says Kirstein

Glades County's economy will get a shot in the arm within the next several weeks with the expected reopening of the Moore Haven Sugar House.

Although Gulf and Western has no plans to activate the sugar mill, the refinery will pump $5,000 a day into Glades County's economy after it resumes full operation, Arthur Kirstein, III said in December.

Kirstein, vice president and general manager of the Okeelanta Sugar Division of Gulf and Western Food Products Company, said the plant would reopen in late January and employ 125-135 workers.

Pedro Alvarez, assistant manager of Gulf and Western's Okeelanta Food Products Company, said Friday, Jan. 27, repairs are still being made to the refinery, but that the reopening is basically on schedule.

During each 24-hour period the Moore Haven refinery will be capable of refining 500 tons of sugar. The sugar will be sold under several brand names, primarily Florida Crystals.

Kirstein predicted $35,000 to $40,000 weekly would be injected into Glades County's economy by the payroll alone.

"We've increased the grinding capacity of this mill (Okeelanta) from 11,000 tons a day to about 14,000 to 15,000 tons a day. We in-Moore Haven farmers can bring to us," Kirstein said.

"We want Moore Haven farmers to expand their cane. When we made a contract with Moore Haven farmers, we told them they are our partners. We want them to expand. We want them to get healthy," he said.

Although the refinery's operating schedule has yet to be fixed—it depends on the demand for sugar, its salability and the refinery's capacity—the refinery can be operated more flexibly now that it operates independently of the mill.

The Glades County Sugar Growers Cooperative Association of Moore Haven, formed in 1961 to enable its grower-owners to process and sell home-grown cane, voted in February 1977 to sell the Moore Haven Sugar House to Gulf and Western.

The cooperative had been plagued most of its existence with financial problems.

Some sugar experts believe increased cane production in the tend to further expand it next year to accommodate all that the Moore Haven area plus the increased grinding capacity of the Okeelanta mill could enable Gulf and Western to some day challenge the U.S. Sugar Corp. and the Belle Glade Sugar Growers Cooperative for the top spot in sugar production.

The sell-purchase agreement between the Glades County Sugar Growers Cooperative and Gulf and Western Food calls for the cooperative to deliver 850,000 tons of cane to the Okeelanta mill each season.

The agreement allows cooperative tonnage to be increased to 1.5 million tons of cane and encourages acreage increases.

HOW to Write a Person-to-Person Classified Ad that Sells!

STATE THE ITEM

1 Tell your readers exactly what you're selling right away. Don't bother with fancy features yet. They don't want to know it's "Wilson K28" until after they know it's a set of golf clubs.

GIVE ENOUGH INFORMATION

2 An ad that's too short becomes expensive if it doesn't sell your item. "Golf Clubs, 000-0000" leaves the reader with too many questions. What kind? What model? Condition? State the price or say "Make an offer."

BE HONEST

3 Don't omit obvious flaws or exaggerate the quality. "Never used" might get lots of calls but "damaged number three iron" may get more offers. Your readers want to buy from someone they can trust.

GET TO THE POINT

4 Avoid long-winded language when short phrases will do. "Super deluxe, attractive blue and white Atlantic bag" can be shortened to "blue and white Atlantic bag." That way you can convey a lot of information while taking advantage of our low Person-to-Person rates.

MAKE SURE CUSTOMERS CAN REACH YOU

5 Just a phone number is enough if you will be home all the time the ad is running. If not, your caller may get discouraged and decide not to call back. By adding "After 6 P.M., your customer knows exactly when he can reach you.

6 GOLF CLUBS, Wilson K28, full set, with blue and white Atlantic bag, damaged number three iron, cost $400. Will sell for $225. Phone 000-0000 after 6 P.M.

Crusaders beat Summit 29-20

The Christian Day School girls team was in action against Summit on Tuesday, Jan. 24. The Crusaders won by a score of 29 to 20. The leading scorer for Christian Day was Joni Davis with 14 points. Linda Harris followed with 7 points.

In the Varsity game, the Crusaders lost by only five points, being defeated by a score of 53 to 48. According to the coaching staff, only 8 points were scored in the second quarter by Christian Day, and this contributed to the loss. Ken Warren was the high scorer for the Crusaders with 20 points. Bill Taylor also scored in the double figures with 12.

On Jan. 27 the Varsity Crusaders defeated Palm Beach Prep by a score of 57 to 46. Coach Coldren said that the team got off to a slow start, and were down at the half by a score of 26 to 19. He also said the boys really came back in the second half. They scored 15 points to Prep's 12 in the third quarter, and 23 points to their 8 in the fourth quarter, really clinching the win. Bill Taylor was the high scorer with 18 points, and Ken Warren came in second with 10. Two of his 10 came in the final two seconds of the game when he made a fine shot from about mid-court.

On Saturday, Jan. 28, the Crusaders travelled to Jupiter to play Jupiter Christian. The junior varsity team defeated the Jupiter JV by a score of 54 to 35. Four Crusaders scored in the double figures, having what Coach Joe Gue-the called "well-rounded scoring." He also said that they really blew Jupiter out of the gym the second half. The high scorer for that game was Kent Davis with 12 points, followed by Carlos Soler and Fredy Alvarez with 11 each, and Bill Evans came in with 10.

The Jupiter Christian girls team defeated the Christian Day girls team by a score of 40 to 31. The game was lost basically in the third quarter, when Jupiter Christian scored 12 points to Christian Day's 2. The leading scorer for Christian Day was Doris Acree with 12 points.

In the Varsity game, Christian Day came out on top with a score of 59 to 32. Again the second half made the difference. The Crusaders were down at the end of the first half by a score of 22 to 21. The coaching staff said that Jupiter

Christian stalled the ball on them the entire first half, and they didn't try to force anything. They also had foul trouble, with 17 fouls being called on the Crusaders the first half. Coach Coldren said the team came out in the second half and played their game. They scored 38 points in the second half. Alan Bowen led the scoring with 19 points and also had approximately 14 rebounds, even though he was playing with 4 personal fouls called on him.

The junior high, junior varsity and varsity teams will be playing at Glades Day School Saturday, Feb. 4. The games will begin at 4 o'clock.
